1.0 What does this policy affect?

This policy affects the delivery of subjects of reformed GCE and GCSE qualifications which contain a component(s) of non-examination assessment.

“The regulator’s definition of an examination is very narrow and in effect any type of assessment that is not ‘externally set and taken by candidates at the same time under controlled conditions’ is classified as non-examination assessment (NEA). ‘NEA’ therefore includes, but is not limited to, internal assessment. Externally marked and/or externally set practical examinations taken at different times across centres are classified as ‘NEA’.”

Definition taken directly from the JCQ publication Instructions for conducting non-examination assessments.

This publication is further referred to in this policy as NEA

2.0 Purpose of the policy

3.0 What are non-examination assessments?

“Non-examination assessments measure subject-specific knowledge and skills that cannot be tested by timed written papers.

There are three assessment stages and rules which apply to each stage. These rules often vary across subjects. The stages are:

- task setting;
- task taking;
- task marking.

Subject head/lead

- Sets timescales for teachers to inform candidates of their centre-assessed marks that will allow sufficient time for a candidate to appeal an internal assessment decision/request a review of the centre's marking prior to the marks being submitted to the awarding body external deadline

16.1.1 Subject teacher

- Informs candidates of their marks which could be subject to change by the awarding body moderation process
- Ensures candidates are informed to the timescale indicated in the centre's internal appeals procedure to enable an internal appeal/request for a review of marking to be submitted by a candidate and the outcome known before final marks are submitted to the awarding body
- Should a student wish to request a review, he/she needs to inform the Examinations Officer, of their intention within 3 working days of receiving the marks. Parents must also complete and sign the NEA Marking Review form available from the exams office. This form must also be completed within 3 working days in order to trigger the review process. Please be advised, there will be an administration charge incurred for each review requested. Charges levied will be commensurate with those set by awarding bodies and will range from £36.00 to £56.00 depending on the subject.
- Marking reviews will be undertaken by subject specialists with appropriate levels of competence and expertise. However, they must be impartial and therefore, staff must have had no previous involvement in the assessment and marking processes. Similarly, any member of staff with a conflict of interest due to a personal relationship with a student or family will not be permitted to undertake a review. Students will be informed of the outcome of the review in due course. It is important to note that students' marks after the completion of a review are not final. They are still subject to change during the moderation process that takes place externally as part of the awarding process.
- We do not anticipate marking reviews yielding positive results. Historically, teachers at Arnewood School have proven to be expert in marking and assessment. It is common for awarding bodies to commend teaching staff on the accuracy of marking and moderation as part of the examination process. Therefore, we cannot advise students to embark on this process with any degree of certainty that marks may rise. In fact, students must be aware that marks could go down as well as up as part of a review process.
